

VICTIM OF ASSAULT ASKS PUNISHMENT OF OCEAN CITY MAN

White Woman Thrown Into
Vat of Tar, Following Gossip.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 27.—Authorities in Worcester county, Md., are expected to take immediate steps to get at the bottom of the Ocean City affair, in which Mrs. Mary Holzman was beaten and tarred by a crowd of men. State Attorney Johnson will take the woman's statement and may have warrants issued for those thought to be guilty.

Following today in the county runs high, and the better element is demanding that the perpetrators be brought to justice. The woman is still suffering from the blows she received, but is slowly recovering.

Investigation in Baltimore shows Mrs. Holzman is the wife of William Holzman, a carpenter from whom she has been separated for nearly four years. The husband lives with his brother part of the time, and spends the remainder of the time at Turrers Station, Md., near Baltimore.

Charles Holzman, a brother of the woman's husband, said the separation of the Holzmans occurred after some domestic trouble. When questioned he said he knew nothing of the woman's whereabouts, and that he thought his brother is in ignorance of where she is living.

The woman is still vehement against her assailants, and insists that she was brutally treated without provocation. She is demanding that the men whom she says she recognized be arrested.

Surprise was shown by Worcester countyans today over the fact that, although the assault and tarring of the woman took place last Tuesday, the news did not leak out until late Thursday. All but the Ocean City residents were in ignorance of the trouble until that time, but telephone messages to State Attorney Johnson, at Snow Hill, and to persons living in Berlin, made the fact public.

Never before has Worcester county been more stirred than it is over the action of a party of citizens who dragged Mrs. Holzman from her home, and showered blows and kicks upon her face and limbs, and concluded their performance by dipping her into a vat of tar in the presence of her eleven-year-old son.

Terrorized by her experience, the woman has quit the town. She is now being sheltered by "Tom" Jones, a colored man who lives three miles in the country.

One of the most startling features of the incident is the fact that the town lights were out when the assault was committed.

Mrs. Holzman's face was so discolored from the blows that those who saw her on the day of the great assault did not recognize her.

Indignation against her was created by a report that she was harboring colored men. She denies this.

FAIRFAX FUNERAL PLANS ARRANGED

Services Will Be Held Tomorrow Afternoon at 3 o'Clock at the Residence of His Daughter, Mrs. C. Randolph
Davis, With Burial in Presbyterian Cemetery.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.
ALEXANDRIA, VA., MAY 27.

Thomas M. Fairfax, well-known citizen and veteran of the civil war, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. Randolph Davis, at 301 Prince street. Mr. Fairfax was born in Fairfax county, seventy-two years ago. During the war he served in the Confederate forces in Col. John S. Mosby's famous command. Just after the conflict he engaged in the grocery business, his store being located at Duke and Fairfax streets. Owing to failing health about five years ago, he was forced to retire. He was stricken with paralysis, the third attack coming several weeks ago, which resulted in his death.

He is survived by a wife and the following children: Milton S. Fairfax, Mrs. C. Randolph Davis, and Mrs. Samuel R. Davis. The funeral will take place from the residence of his daughter at 3 o'clock, tomorrow afternoon, the services being conducted by the Rev. William J. Morton. Burial will be made in the Presbyterian cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha Duncan, who died at her home in Del Ray, Alexandria county, yesterday afternoon, will take place from Christ Protestant Episcopal Church at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The Rev. William J. Morton, the rector, officiating. Mrs. Duncan was eighty-four years of age, and had lived in this country for nearly eight years. She had attended the church services yesterday, apparently in the best of health, and while at the dinner table was stricken with paralysis.

She is survived by the following children: James M. Duncan, John H. Duncan, William Duncan, and Edward Duncan, of this city, and Mrs. John Simms, of Washington.

The much mooted question as to just how much space a merchant can occupy on the streets of this city in placing display cases on the sidewalk, occupied considerable time in police court this morning, and bids fair to become the subject of suits in higher courts.

Benjamin Abramson, a King street merchant, was arraigned at the instance of Charles B. Marshall, whose store adjoins that of Abramson. Marshall stated the other was about to place a large display case on the sidewalk, and that it was situated in such a manner that it would obscure his own show windows.

Justice Harry B. Caton recalled a similar case several years ago, in which he imposed a small fine, which was later reversed in corporation court, and remarked that in view of this precedent, he would be compelled to dismiss the charge against Abramson. Immediately after the hearing Mr. Marshall swore out a State warrant against Abramson, which will be first heard in the same court on Wednesday. Should this fail, the merchant stated that he would ask for an injunction.

Henry Morgan, colored, was fined $20 on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Morgan made a novel plea for himself. "Deed, judge, I had on a friend's coat, and didn't know those brass knuckles were there." William Schuler, a grocer, was fined $2 for allowing a nuisance on his premises, and Laura Artiss, colored, charged with a violation of the "Jim Crow" law, forfeited $5 collateral.

Preparations for the State convention of the Retail Merchants' Association, which meets in Alexandria in July, will be made at a meeting of the board of directors of the local association to be held in the rooms of the chamber of commerce late this afternoon.

Funeral services for William Bayless were held from St. Mary's Catholic Church at 9 o'clock this morning. The Rev. L. P. Kelley, assistant pastor, officiating.

Several delegates to the fifteenth annual session of the Daughters of Liberty, which meets here tomorrow, arrived today. A meeting will be given by Friendship Council, Daughters of Liberty, at the Odd Fellows Hall this evening.

The question as to the purchase of fire apparatus for the protection of the village, will come up at a meeting of the town council of Potomac, Alexandria county, to be held tonight.

Graves of deceased members in local cemeteries were decorated yesterday by members of James W. Jackson and Belle Haven councils, Junior Order of United American Mechanics.

Commencement exercises for the Arlington Institute will be held on June 4. At this time, four young women will receive diplomas.

Newark Police Ready For Strike Outbreak

NEWARK, N. J., May 27.—Closely guarded by police reserves all night, a band of colored strikebreakers who were brought to this city from Baltimore Saturday, were quartered in a house on Frelinghuysen avenue. The house is said by the police to be the property of the New Jersey Paving Company. Although everything was quiet yesterday, everybody concerned is prepared for trouble in the strike of the Independent Laborers and Diggers' Union of Newark.

Strikers held meetings in their various halls at 6 o'clock this morning, and any attempt by the contractors to put the imported men at work may be the signal for rioting that will tax the capacity of the police force of this city.

SLAYER OF PAIR TO MAKE PLEA OF "UNWRITTEN LAW"

Shows No Emotion as He Tells of Tragedy Due to Domestic Trouble.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 27.—Showing no emotion as he sat in his cell in the city jail, Bert G. Lewis today repeated his confession of last night that he had slain both C. H. Tolliver and Mrs. Tolliver as they were entering their home here late Saturday night. He declined to outline his defense, but it is believed he will plead the "unwritten law," and will allege Tolliver was responsible for the trouble between himself and Mrs. Lewis.

Coroner Bell today began his inquest into the affair, intending to pay particular attention to the question whether Tolliver or his wife died first.

The shooting was the direct result of quarrels between the two men lasting several months. A year ago Tolliver, who was an airship inventor, employed Lewis as his secretary and chauffeur, and also employed him in connection with the business of the Tolliver Aerial Company. The two men quarreled soon after and a break between Mrs. Lewis and her husband followed, Lewis suing Tolliver for $10,000 for alienation of affection. Before the suit came to trial Mrs. Lewis was reconciled with her husband.

Lewis admits that he planned deliberately to slay Tolliver. He went to the Tolliver home here, tied up a pet dog and hid himself in the shrubbery armed with two automatic revolvers and a dagger. When Tolliver and his wife drove up in the automobile, Lewis opened fire. Nineteen shots were fired. Tolliver was struck by several bullets but not mortally wounded. His wife stepped before him to shield him and Lewis fired two shots at her. One bullet struck her head, both inflicting mortal wounds. She kept her strength long enough to rush into the house and call the police station, but died before she could tell the police her trouble.

Lewis left the house, but was caught by the police before he reached his home. Mrs. Lewis visited him at the jail today and pledged him her unwavering support.

Strikes Light Post.

To avoid running down a baby carriage, Francis E. Robbins, colored chauffeur for Mrs. Charles Heidrich, of 254 Florida avenue northwest, drove an automobile, occupied by Mrs. Heidrich, into an electric light pole at Dupont circle yesterday afternoon. The automobile was badly damaged, but no one was hurt.

ATTEMPT TO END TRANSPORT STRIKE PROVES FAILURE

Mobs Threaten Violence and Danger of Famine Is Increasing.

LONDON, May 27.—The first attempt to break the transport strike was made here today when a guard of 400 police was placed about the Victoria and Albert docks, the biggest in London, to protect strike-breakers at work there from interference. Although the working force of freight handlers was far below its usual quota, the transport companies gave notice to shippers that traffic could be kept moving under police guard. Police escorts were furnished to draymen and truckers.

The attempt to break the strike by wholesale use of police angered the strikers, and mobs gathered along the harbor front early in the day, threatening violence. At points where most serious trouble was threatened the guards were doubled.

Mass Meeting Held.

Following the adoption of resolutions by the transport workers yesterday at their monster mass meeting in Trafalgar square, the men remained firm in their determination not to go back to work so long as the companies employed nonunion labor. Harry Gosling, leader of the strikers, announced that there was a possibility of the port electricians joining the walkout.

The prospect of a famine situation was but little relieved by the use of strikebreakers, as the number of men employed was inadequate to handle the great amount of freight which has accumulated since the strike went on. There is a great amount of perishable foodstuff rotting in ships' holds and in warehouses. More than 300 ships are now tied up.

Threaten National Strike.

Ben Tillett, founder of the dock workers' union, who is one of the leaders in the transport walkout, because of the affiliation between the two organizations, declared that if the companies attempted to divert freight traffic from the Thames to other ports an order for a national strike would be issued without delay.

President Sidney Buxton of the Board of Trade, Premier Asquith and Chancellor Lloyd-George conferred upon the situation today, and discussed the various features of the situation. Their great fear is that sympathetic strikes will be called.

The strikers are declaring that all grievances must be settled before the men go back. This includes adjustment of wages, work day hours, and working conditions, recognition of the unions, and abolition of the open shop, and commutation of the sentence of Tom Mann, the labor leader who was recently sent to jail at Manchester for inciting soldiers to mutiny against strike duty.

FOUR ARE KILLED AT GRADE CROSSING

Occupants of Automobile Helpless
When Machine Goes
"Dead."

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., May 27.—The automobile of W. D. Brown, a wealthy retired farmer, went "dead" on the tracks of the Indianapolis, Terre Haute and Eastern Traction Company last evening, and was struck by an electric car. The following were killed: BAILEY, MISS BONNIE, seventeen. BROWN, W. D., fifty-three. BROWN, MRS. W. D., fifty-three. CURE, MISS BESSIE, seventeen. All lived in Martinsville.

Edda Brown, nineteen, son of the dead couple, was driving and owes his life to the fact that he jumped when he saw he was unable to get the automobile started. He was severely injured. The accident occurred on a sharp curve near the Centerton postoffice. A few weeks ago a boy was killed on the crossing.

TEMPERATURE RISE IS NOW PREDICTED

Change Also Expected in Barometric Conditions Here in Few Days.

While every evidence of the nearness of summer may be seen on all sides, the hot, blazing-sun weather of the last three or four days is to be superseded by a rise in the temperature and a change in the barometric conditions within a few days, the United States Weather Bureau says.

The temperature this week will average above the normal, the forecast for the week, issued this morning, says, and cooler weather, originating in the Northwest, will overtake the Eastern section of the country the latter part of the week. A well defined storm area will overpread the Middle West Wednesday or Thursday, but will not reach this section before Friday or Saturday. Except for showers and thunderstorms, generally fair weather is predicted for this week.

"High View"

A section of homes set upon a hill. Well within the city, on an elevation that lays the business and shopping center of Washington at your feet.

It is here that we have broken all home-selling records with a record-breaking home value, that should demand your immediate inspection.

Price, $3,300

Terms: $200 Cash

$26.92 Per Month

(which pays directly on the home, including all interest.)
TO INSPECT—Take any G. street car marked "Brookland" or "North Capitol and W. streets," get off at Rhode Island avenue and walk one square east.

The owners have under course of construction more of these homes. It will be several months before they are completed.
If you haven't the necessary $200 first payment to put into one of the homes now ready for immediate occupancy, you can have us reserve one of the next lot for you by arranging to make us small monthly payments. In this way, by the time the homes are ready for occupancy, you will have saved enough to make the first payment. After that all you need pay is $26.92 per month, which applies directly on the home, including all interest.
